TASTING NOTES

CROFT VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: There is a nice limpidity on this Croft 2007. It is not the power that strikes you but the purity with black cherries, liquorices, violets and a hint of iodine. Very tight and focused. The palate is full-bodied with chewy tannins on the entry, pure blackberry, raspberry, white pepper and Asian spice towards the finish. Very fine focus, very pure and harmonious. Sensuous finish but it just tapers away when I need more grip and assertiveness. Still, this is a lovely Croft. Score – 93. (Neal Martin, www.erobertparker.com, May 2009)

DOW'S VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: Intense aromas of blackberry, wet earth and grape follow through to a full body, with medium-to-light sweetness, very big tannins and a mouthfilling finish. Round and delicious already. Has the stuffing to age. Powerful. Score – 94-97. (James Suckling, www.winespectator.com, May 6, 2009)

FONSECA VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: A limpid purple garnet core. The nose is quintessential Fonseca, like a riotous party reaching its crescendo in the glass. Macerated black cherries, eau-de-vie, damson, fig and a touch of Seville orange. Then what is fascinating is that the uproar dies down with aeration, becomes more focused...as if the host has asked everyone to quieten down. The palate is powerful and spicy on the entry, sweet ripe black berried fruits, a touch of spice, fig and apricot, lovely cohesion and weight building towards a deeply joyous finish that lacquers the mouth in port-like reverie. Perhaps more approachable than the 2000 or the 2003 at this stage, this is a marvellous Fonseca. Score – 96. (Neal Martin, www.erobertparker.com, May 2009)

GRAHAM'S VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: Great nose of crushed blackberry, currant and grape skin. Intense. Full-bodied, dense and beautiful, with big, polished tannins and a long, long finish. Very sweet. This is a superb young vintage Port. Could match or better the fabulous 2000 Graham. Score – 96-99. (James Suckling, www.winespectator.com, May 6, 2009)

SMITH WOODHOUSE VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: Brambly black fruit on the nose with touches of cigar box, fireside hearth, just a faint touch of wild mint. Good definition although it does not have the same level of vigour as other 2007 ports. The palate is medium-bodied with great purity on the entry. A port defined by its elegance - almost understated but it builds beautifully. Fine tannins on the finish, touches of cloves and ginger lingering on the aftertaste. Perhaps earlier drinking but very refined. Score – 92. (Neal Martin, www.erobertparker.com, May 2009)

TAYLOR FLADGATE VARGELLAS VINHA VELHA VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: This is the Port of the vintage. Blackberry and cassis on the nose. Very perfumed and fruity. Some mineral and wet earth underneath. Full-bodied, medium sweet and very chewy, with fabulous tannins and a big mouthfeel. Racy and powerful. Score – 97-100. (James Suckling, www.winespectator.com, May 6, 2009)

TAYLOR FLADGATE VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: A classic baby Vintage Port nose of blackberry, currant and a little bit of green lemon leaf. Full-bodied and medium sweet. There's a solid core of ripe fruit and powerful tannins, with grip. The real deal. Score – 94-97. (James Suckling, www.winespectator.com, May 6, 2009)

WARRE'S VINTAGE PORT 2007

TASTING NOTE: I love the nose on this, with blackberry, black licorice, and dark chocolate. Full-bodied, medium sweet and very, very dense. What seductive mouthfeel, with polished, round tannins that caress the palate. This may be better than the fantastic 1994. Score – 95-98. (James Suckling, www.winespectator.com, May 6, 2009)
